

JORDAN NEWELL: Strong Voice, Strong Values

Jordan Newell has a proven track record of taking action and getting things done.

Jordan is well known for his hard work in the local community, serving as a charity trustee and a local school governor. He was a Parliamentary Candidate in 2010 and is now Chair of Colchester CLP.

After six years working in Parliament and a further four years in the charity sector, Jordan today works in the NHS dealing with risk management issues.

Jordan's energy and commitment has seen his campaign gain the support of many colleagues from across the Party.

The Voice Essex Needs

Supporters give their reasons for backing Jordan

"I believe Jordan would be an outstanding candidate for Essex Police Commissioner. He combines experience in a wide range of areas, including working in Parliament, with energy and enthusiasm and a real understanding of policing. In my view, Jordan ticks all the boxes and I'm delighted to give him my support."

Cllr Tim Young
Cabinet Member for Community Safety,
Colchester Borough Council

"As Chair of Essex Labour Students, I'd like to give our endorsement of Jordan Newell for the Labour Police and Crime Commissioner nomination."

Tyron Wilson
Chair of Labour Students, Essex University

"Jordan is a brilliant campaigner. He is full of energy and really understands the issues of crime, anti-social behaviour and policing."

Jacqui Smith
Home Secretary 2007-2009

"I am pleased to be supporting Jordan to be Labour's candidate for Essex Police Commissioner. His commitment to tackling crime and helping communities will make him an effective advocate for the people of Essex"

Ivan Henderson
Labour MP for Harwich 1997-2005

"Although I'm not a fan of the idea of Police & Crime Commissioners, I would urge people in Essex to vote for Jordan Newell - the best person for the job."

Scott Harris
Former Essex Police Officer
